Falcons Face Toledo In Annual Peace Pipe Game

BY PETE RAY
No matter what their records show for the season, when Toledo University and Bowling Green tangle tomorrow night it'll be considered the "game of the year" in this area. For when these two teams meet anything can happen. Fans who saw the Falcons and the Rockets battle earlier this year in the TU Field House will agree with that. And apparently they liked what they saw because the way tickets are selling, Men's Gym will be packed for tomorrow's "Peace Pipe" contest. In the first Bowling Green-Toledo meeting this year, the Falcons managed to come out on the long end of a 54-53 score, but they had to go into an overtime to do it. The game was one of the weirdest seen since the revival of the teams' rivalry in 1948: players on both teams were missing their shots with the exception of Falcon pivot man, Jim Gerber, who scored 26 points, but the close play and the climax was as exciting as any basketball game could be. Eight games have been played between these two teams since 1948. Bowling Green has taken six of these, but in the last two seasons the Rockets have come through with wins. They will be out to salvage the second game of this season's home-and-home series tomorrow. Neither of the two teams is anywhere in sight of the top in the national ratings, although either of them could give the country's best teams a tough battle on a "good" night. As is evident from their first meeting, Toledo and Bowling Green (Continued on Page 3)

Newmanites Announce Plan For Club Student Center

Newman Club members have formulated plans to raise money for a Catholic Student Center.

The plans include leasing a house near the campus and raising $150,000 in order to construct a new building.

The club hopes to be moved into its off-campus house by next September. The new building will be constructed as soon as sufficient funds have been collected.

A board of directors, composed of parents of Catholic students and alumni of the club, will direct the fund-raising campaign. Funds will be raised through contributions by parents of Catholic students, Catholic alumni, and friends of the club.

Pres. Ralph W. McDonald said that he is "very pleased" to hear of the project. Dr. McDonald stated that "these plans will be for the good of the Newman Club and the whole University. The administration will give its complete cooperation."

The Rev. F. J. Nietfeld, club chaplain, announced last week that the Rt. Rev. George J. Rehling, bishop of the Toledo Diocese, has given his approval of the plans.

The house which the Newman Club hopes to lease by next semester will have a chapel, chaplain's quarters, library, meeting rooms, lounges and the Club's offices.

The new building will be similar to the new Catholic Student Center at Ohio University. The Ohio State Catholic Center was finished last fall.

NCCC Recognizes Rev. Hayward's Work With Students

The Rev. Hollis Hayward, of the University Chapel, has been recognized by the National Council of the Church of Christ in the United States of America for his outstanding work with college students in Christian Education.

Reverend Hayward received the recognition at a meeting of the NCCC's division of Christian Education in Columbus. He is a member of that division's youth work committee, one of 12 active committees. The youth work committee is composed of individuals doing youth work in colleges, state organizations and local churches.

Also at the meeting of the Christian Educators it was announced that a new translation of the King James version of the Bible is ready for publication.

Litherland Debates Education Problems

Herschel Litherland, dean of the College of Education, will participate in a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education in Chicago, Feb. 21-23.

Dean Litherland is a member of a six-man panel which will discuss the implications of the two main subjects to be presented at the meeting. ## Student Government Building Open, Daily Hours Announced

The new Student Government Bldg. opened Monday, Feb. 18. The building will combine all governing bodies on campus into a central location.

Hours which the building will be open are 9 to 12, 1 to 5, and 7 to 9 daily. Executive hours will be 4 to 5. Religious groups located in the building will keep these same hours.

The meeting and conference rooms may be reserved by any group on campus if the room is scheduled by that group at least one week in advance and not more than two weeks in advance. Student government groups may register meetings for the remainder of the semester at any time.

Rules governing the use of the bulletin board in the north side of the Well have been set up. All material must be brought to the Senate desk to be approved. If a poster is to be returned, a note should be put on the back of the poster and the senator by whom it is registered informed. Returnable material will not be kept over 24 hours.

Material will be posted on the bulletin board every day at 5 p. m. by a senator and the non-current material will be removed at that time.

McDonald Slams Peacetime UMT As 'Sheer Folly'

Adoption of universal peacetime military training would be "sheer folly" charged Pres. Ralph W. McDonald yesterday in Cincinnati.

Dr. McDonald, speaking to the annual meeting of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, asserted that "no nation can remain free if it subjects its peacetime population to a system of militarization. It has never been done anywhere else, and it would be stupid for us to assume that the results would be any different here."

Backers of the proposed UMT bill, said the president, "realize that only in a period of widespread fear and confusion in the public mind will the American people even consider such action."

Calling the proposed pilot system of "voluntary" UMT a contradiction, Dr. McDonald declared that UMT "is never voluntary in the slightest degree. Its most characteristic feature is that it is universal and compulsory."

Refusal to accept compulsory peacetime training has been one of the most constructive forces in the development of our nation, claimed President McDonald.

"Those who want to take six months for initial training plus later stretches of compulsory training spanning eight years of the life of each boy in peacetime are not only proposing to disrupt the life and education of that boy; they are urging us to undermine the very strength of the nation," affirmed the former NEA official.

In speaking of the ever-increasing complexity of modern war, he said that one sure result of UMT as a peacetime measure "would be to crystallize our military methods and strategy into a fixed pattern, thus making the adjustment to new methods evermore difficult."

No nation in history has ever practiced UMT and retained the strength of its free institutions, insisted Dr. McDonald.

The educational leader ended his speech by quoting from a resolution recently passed by the Association of American Colleges which flatly and vigorously opposed the adoption of UMT.

Hand-Carved, Smokeable Pipe Goes To BG-TU Tilt Winner

Tomorrow night Falcon and Toledo hardwood forces clash at the Men's Gym in their fifth annual "Peace Pipe" encounter.

At stake in this basketball contest is the six-foot, two-inch symbol of friendly rivalry between the neighbor schools.

Sponsoring organizations are the Bowling Green State University Press Club and the Toledo chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national journalism honorary.

These units, desirous of re-establishing basketball relations after a 12-year lapse, originated the "Peace Pipe" idea in 1948.

Bowling Green gained possession of the trophy in that year, re-

Closed Rushing Will End Friday

Fraternity bids will be given out in the Rec Hall on Thursday, Feb. 21, from 9 to 12 a. m. Open rushing is then in effect at noon on Friday, Feb. 22.

A list of men receiving bids will be placed at the entrances of the Rec Hall. Rushes receiving bids will pick them up and sign for the fraternity that they wish to pledge. If a rushee does not sign a bid at the time he enters the Rec Hall, he will have to wait until open rushing begins to do so.

The rushee cannot carry bids outside of the Rec Hall before he signs one. All bids must be signed and left in the Rec Hall.

Two new rules for fraternity rushing were passed at a special meeting of Inter-Fraternity Council Wednesday night.

No fraternity man is allowed to enter any men's dorm (including fraternity houses) between 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. during the period of closed rushing. A $25 fine will be paid to IFC by the man's fraternity as a penalty.

During open rushing, fraternity men may enter these dorms, but any disturbances or breaking of the house rules caused by them will subject their fraternity to the $25 fine.

The rest of the rushing rules are unchanged and appear below.

Two smokers are allowed to each house on the same night, two fraternities competing that night.

Except at smokers, six prospective rushees are the limit of those allowed to meet with fraternity men at their house. (This does not include independents living or eating at the house.)

In Our Opinion

Intolerable Immaturity

Tomorrow night might well be the last, as well as the first, Peace Pipe game played on the local court. A half-decade has passed since the resumption of athletic relations between the two schools.

The huge Peace Pipe is supposed to represent the "burying of the hatchet" between the two schools. It is now possible that while the hatchet may be buried, it will not necessarily be BETWEEN TU and BG, but maybe in one of them.

During the past five years rivalry and interest between the two camps has been very intense. Unfortunately, this fall it left the spectator stands and joined in the game. Even more unfortunate, TU made such a public stand as to make further athletic relations doubtful. While private recognition has been made that Bowling Green was not at fault, the public stand once made has not been changed.

As it now stands, this presents an intolerable situation. One that makes the continuance of relations necessitating such close contact as in sports extremely unwise. Further, it is unnecessary. Unless some tangible assurance could be given BG that the situation at TU allowed such a spectacle is alleviated, further relations should be out of the question.

Bowling Green's duty tomorrow night is to push its own team as loudly and strongly as possible, but nonetheless retaining some aspects of civilized human beings. There is no need for resorting to immature antics and tactics.

The aims of this newspaper shall be to publish all news of general interest to students and University personnel, to guide student thinking, and to exist for the betterment of this University.

Objective Consideration Before Signing Is Advised To All Prospective Pledges

BY HAL FRALEY

Sometime this week, a certain group of people on campus is going to make some rather vital decisions, or at least they'll think they're vital.

The group, the Rushees, deity's gift to the Greek system. The decision, to be or not to be, a Greek. That is GREEK not GEEK. Some have been heard to observe that there is hardly one iota of difference but more of that later.

It has been said, quite reasonably, that the decision to join or not to join will have a direct influence on your subsequent life. In view of that, perhaps it would be wise to review some of the more often heard points of view of both sides of the picket line.

The independents, hardy masters of their fate, contend that the Greek system is unfair, undemocratic, not consistent with principles of high education, not conducive to a broad, liberal outlook on life, makes the individual too reliant on the group, too costly, in time, money and effort, and sometimes downright dangerous.

And then there is a small few who even describe it as "naughty."

Paring these vicious thrusts, the toga-clad ones loftily admonish the unbelievers that their system is immensely practical, socially beneficial, conducive to high morals and ideals, a home away from home, an extremely effective way of meeting people and making many strong, firm friendships, essentially more honest in its snobbish aspects than society at large, and, a heck of a lot of fun.

Now, of course, Bowling Green is not quite the same as most other schools when it comes to the Greek system, or, some readily admit, when it comes to anything Bowling Green's not quite the same as other schools.

The local situation is not anywhere near so extreme either in its Greek participation, nor in the independents' smugness. A member of either clan can do just as well here as the other. There are no entrenchments, no bitterness to make much mention of, no noticeable envy on either side.

You can have parties and date with the adorned or unadorned at your choosing, depending upon your personal graces and abilities, and words of reproach are never heard, at least not too loudly.

Since most persons manage to stay in college for the avowed purpose of academic pursuit, it behooves us to review the imposing compilation of "averages." In so doing it is seen that by and large the Greeks manage, by one means or another, to accumulate a somewhat higher point average than their slightly less well organized classmates.

In defense, the Master of his Fate, and wate, decries the use of files, but give him a chance at one and he'll go to town like a regular Tuesday - nighter. Some pros, names shrouded in whatever names are shrouded in, feel that the files actually make students study harder, and wonder of wonders, possibly even LEARN more.

Then, at BG, another matter to consider, even outside of the possibility of brotherly affection, is the small, negligible item of eating, sleeping, loafing, and places to hold bull-sessions. Fraternity and sorority houses around here are better than the dorms, if that means anything.

Now, perhaps that is a somewhat mercenary approach to something so sacred as the Hellenic oath to love, honor, and wear your brothers', or for sororities, sisters', clothes. But let's face it kids. Fraternity row eats better than the Commons, to be extreme at one end of the picture.

With as much seriousness as is possible to muster on a short notice, it is advised that the individual should be objective in making his choice, that the small items of hazing, "hell" weeks, asininity for the pledges and possibly the feeling of being an "out" if remaining an independent, should all be properly weighed along with items of expense, housing, and social benefits.

However, it is fully well realized that the ultimate decision will really not be based upon an objective approach, but probably upon some small whim or flight of fantasy arising from one of man's numerous and unpredictable emotions.

As was once said concerning insomnia, don't lose any sleep over it.

Association To Visit

Sometime in March members of the AACTE will visit this University to evaluate the teacher education program as a part of their education research.

LETTERS TO The Editor

Dear Editor and Students:

Bowling Green State University students should certainly be proud of their school, the many courses which it offers, and the progressive expansion which is taking place here.

I am particularly happy to learn of the new program of training in Physical Therapy which has been set up. This will offer BGSU students the opportunity to prepare for this fine vocation through a co-ordinated program of three years at Bowling Green plus one year at Bunts Institute, Cleveland. Very special training is needed for this highly specialized field and it is fine that Bowling Green State University is prepared to provide it.

As a former student (handicapped), I have a high appreciation for the values of therapy and only wish I might have had it as a child. Hundreds of children need physical therapy in hospitals, clinics, and schools. If more therapists were available, many more handicapped young people might be helped to a happier, more active life.

I urge students to investigate and consider this splendid opportunity for training. Therapists are needed—how many will BGSU train for this high calling? How about it, fellow students, are you interested?

Sincerely,

John C. Beach

Bowling Green, Ohio.

To the Students of Bowling Green:

Your Student Center is now officially open. The former Phi Kappa Tau house, located north of the campus on Ridge St., has been remodeled and redecorated for student use.

Student Senate was the first group to use the facilities of the building. Last Monday night they held their meeting in the meeting room located in the rear of the building. All future Senate meetings will be held in this meeting room on Monday at 6:30 p. m. Student Senate plans to accommodate as many student groups in the meeting and conference rooms as is humanly possible.

An advisory committee, composed of Phyllis Blackford, house manager, Delores Swain, and Douglas Dellefeld, has been set up to coordinate the activities in the building. This committee is now determining policies for the most effective use of the building. The committee will announce, through the B-G News, the poli-

'Libe' Addition Has Study Hall, Modern Lights

Work on the addition to the University library is progressing nicely, according to Dr. Paul F. Leedy, head librarian.

Electricians, floor layers, and painters are readying the new section for students and faculty.

Modern lighting, floors tiled with niotile, a new study hall, a micro reading room, and offices will be available to students and faculty members.

One new feature will be the use of microfilm and microcards. The filming process will conserve space, particularly in connection with files of newspapers, such as the New York Times. By means of microcards as many as 56 pages can be reproduced on a 3 x 5 inch card. Students or faculty members who desire to use microfilm and microcards will be able to do so.

The largest portion of the addition will be used for book stacks, which should add storage space for more than 80,000 volumes. One feature of the new stack room is a small research area for use by graduate students and faculty.

We feel that obtaining the Student Center was a major step for student government at Bowling Green. The main purpose of this letter is to thank all of the people who were of inestimable help in the completion of the building.

Our main thanks go to Pres. Ralph W. McDonald, members of the Board of Trustees, and administrative officials, who were instrumental in getting this building for student government to the Building Advisory Committee under Mr. Bunn, for their time and efforts in our behalf; to Mr. Stanley and the members of the maintenance department for the supplies and construction work; and last, but not least, to the members of the Student Senate, Alpha Phi Omega, and several interested students for painting and cleaning the building. A truly representative group of college personnel, working for a common goal—our Student Center.

There is no need to list the facilities open to students because the B-G News has already capably performed this service for the students. We cordially invite you to visit the Student Center and see the facilities that we offer to the students of this University.

Respectfully yours,
Bob Taylor,
Senate President

Wrestlers Lose Last 4 Matches As Miami Wins

Bowling Green dropped its wrestling meet with Miami University Friday afternoon by a score of 16-12.

The Bowling Green wrestlers started out strong, but Miami quickly caught up as the meet progressed. The Miami Redskins, however, were never ahead until the final match was over.

Dean Russell, Mike Longuil, John Juby, and Tony Mencini won decisions in the first four matches of the afternoon. This put Bowling Green ahead 12-0. Dan Muccigrosso was then pinned and Miami started to catch up with the Falcon wrestlers. In the next two matches Jim Rea and Bob Somogy were decided and the score read B-G 12—Miami 11. In the final match of the day Bob Reed was quickly pinned and the meet was over. Bowling Green 12—Miami 16.

The next meet on the Bowling Green schedule will be against a strong Toledo team Feb. 20.

If a comparison of similar teams, which TU and Bowling Green have met, means anything, the Falcons will have their work cut out for them tomorrow. TU beat Ohio U. 29-5, Bowling Green tied. TU beat Western Reserve 38-0, Bowling Green tied. Kent State beat TU 15-11, Bowling Green lost to Kent State 32-0.

Last year Bowling Green lost both meets with Toledo U. by scores of 21-9 and 33-3.

Locals Break Four Records

By HAL VAN TASSEL

The highly-touted Bowling Green swimming team submerged all would-be opponents Saturday at Ohio University as they won six out of the seven events to dominate the fifth annual Ohio College Relays.

Orange and Brown aquatic aces splashed their way to 48 points while the up-and-coming Ohio U. Bobcats garnered 38. Wittenburg was third with 24 markers. Triumphant coach Sam Cooper praised the team highly and said, "It's the best all-around team we have ever had."

Herb Scogg, Bill Dellen and Bob Sturdevant swam their way to a new pool record, hitting 2:17 flat for the 225-yard individual relay. Danny Craft and John Schwartz combined efforts to win the two-man diving event.

The opposition's lone first place came at the hands of Ohio U. as it nosed out the Falcons by one second while setting a new pool record in the time of 3:44.4 for the 400 - yard free style relay. Cooper stated later that Don Kepler, who was swimming anchor man, would have caught the Ohio man in another 20 yards.

Bowling Green's most impressive win was rung up by the breast stroke crew comprised of Bob Sturdevant, Bill Dellen, Ed Levi, and John Bruce. They raced their way to post a time of 1:57.8, eclipsing the old Relay mark of 2:03.7.

Besides the team trophy the Falcon tankers brought back 20 gold medals and four silver medals for individual awards.

Another Relays record fell before the Orange and Brown tide in the 200-yard back stroke relay. Phil Slaymaker, Don Kepler, Herb Scogg, and Paul Dressel, swam the eight length course in 1:54.8 compared to the old time of 1:56.5.

The talent-laden 300-yard medley relay team established a new pool record with the time of 3:05.7 which shadowed the previous 3:08.1 posting held by a former Bowling Green trio. Members of the veteran medley were Phil Slaymaker, back stroke; John Bruce, breast stroke; and Fred Gerbing, freestyle.

Herb Scogg, Bill Dellen, Fred Gerbing, and Don Kepler proved their sprinting abilities when they won the 200-yard free style relay in a speedy time of 1:39.4.

Individual honors went to Herb Scogg and Bill Dellen, who both received three first-place medals. Phil Slaymaker and Don Kepler were tied for runner-up position with two firsts and one second place apiece.

Tomorrow night the Falcons will invade the University of Detroit fortress in a dual meet. The team has been strengthened a great deal with the addition of two new freshmen, Bill Dellen and Paul Dressel. Coach Cooper stressed the point that it would "take the strongest combination" to subdue the Detroit mermen.

Saturday the Bearcats of Cincinnati will play hosts to the Orange and Brown aggregation in another dual meet which stacks up to be stroke to stroke battle.

Cagers Beat Kent State For 14th Win

Bowling Green's cagers outran Kent State's Golden Flashes Saturday night, 89-79, in one of the season's highest scoring games.

The game was nip and tuck until midway in the third quarter when the Falcon fast break began its wearing-down process, and the Mid-American Conference team fell behind by 10 points.

Bowling Green trailed throughout the entire first half until Al Bianchi hit a drive-in to put his team ahead with just 50 seconds remaining, 44-42.

Bowling Green really turned on the gas after halftime and increased its advantage to 14 points, 74-60, going into the final period. The Falcons scored 30 points in this quarter while Kent was held to 18.

That margin was too much for the Flashes to overcome although they outscored Bowling Green in the fourth stanza, 19 to 15.

As in recent Bowling Green home games, this tilt was marred by the frequent calling of fouls by the officials. The Falcons lost five players via the five-foul route—"Boo" Ellis, Al Bianchi, Jerry Kempter, Steve Galetti, and Lou Drago. All but Drago were starters.

The other starter, Center Jim Gerber, didn't foul out, but he couldn't have come closer. The six-foot six-inch scoring ace played the last 27 minutes with four personals.

Four Kent State starters, Bob Dilling, Larry Grist, Jim Nowakowski, and Joe Alvado received five personals also.

Gerber, Bianchi, Ellis, and Drago all hit double figures for Bowling Green. Gerber led all scorers with 23 points on 11 field goals and a single free throw.

Bianchi was next with 18 on six fielders and six charity tosses; Ellis with 14 and Drago with 13 rounded out the top Falcon scorers.

High man for the Flashes was Percy Grenfell. The tricky guard with the amazing shots collected 18 points. His running mate, freshman Alvado, followed closely with 17. Nowakowski, outstanding soph center, slipped a bit from his 18-plus average per game, but still looked good while racking up 15.

Kent State now has a 12-win, 9-lost record.

Falcons Will Attempt To Sweep 1951-52 BG-TU Series Tomorrow

Green are evenly matched. The odds, however, are slightly in favor of the Falcons since they already own a win over the Rockets, and they have the advantage of laying on their home floor.

Toledo must be at its best tomorrow night, partly because it'll have to get back on the victory trail after losses to Marquette and powerful St. Bonaventure last week, and especially because the Falcons are considered its biggest "friendly" rival. The prize, a 6-foot, 2-inch peace pipe, will go to the winner.

TU, like Bowling Green, has run hot and cold in games played this year. Its record is only fair—16 wins and 10 losses—but considering the fact that it lost several star players who would have been eligible to play this year, the 1951-52 squad is doing exceptionally well.

Probably the Rockets' outstanding game was a loss to Dayton, the number 11 team in the nation last week. Toledo played the Flyers twice and came close to a win both times. The second meeting of the two teams, especially, could have easily gone to Toledo. The Rockets led with only four minutes remaining in the game, but lost when Chuck Grigsby hit a lay-up with only 68 seconds to go, giving Dayton a 55-53 victory.

Grigsby was also the villain when the Flyers beat the Falcons, hitting a similar shot with only seven seconds left.

In the first TU-Dayton tilt, the Rockets led throughout the first three periods but were held scoreless in the fourth and lost.

Coach Jerry Bush, in his fifth season of guiding the Rocket forces, has never favored a team built around one outstanding player. This year is no exception. Almost every man in the starting line-up and several reserves as well has been the top game scorer at one time or another this season, and total scoring is pretty evenly divided.

Certain to see action against the Falcons are Phil Martin, 6-3 sophomore forward, who was the top Toledo performer in the Jan. 9 thriller with 17 points; Ralph Carroll, who as a fourth string junior center last year, came off the bench to rack up 14 points and almost single-handedly knock over the Falcons in the second game; and Captain Phil Morton, 6-6 center-forward now in his third year of varsity play.

Guard "Bullet Bob" Nichols and 6-5 Burt Spice, who scored 20 points between them in the first Falcon-Rocket game this year, spring-legged Willie Russell, and Johnny Pazdzior, slim play-making guard, are also sure to play.

Bowling Green, with a record of 14 wins and 8 losses, the latest an 89-79 conquest over Kent State, will have high-scoring Jim Gerber ready for the Rockets. The 6-6 center's hook shots and tip-ins have given him a total of 444 points this season for an average of 20.2 per game.

Crystal "Boo" Ellis, whose sudden scoring outbursts in the last two games have earned him a place in the starting line-up, will hold down one of the forward positions. Jump-shot specialist Al Bianchi will be the other.

A bottle of the real stuff to the Alpha Tau Omegas for their Penthouse Party Friday night, where they served gingerale in champagne glasses to give a night club atmosphere to the party.

ATOs and their dates entered the house via an elevator fixed with a rising panel to give the impression of passing floors. Ice buckets for the gingerale and potted palms added to the atmosphere. Dummies with musical instruments sat on a bandstand behind which a record player was hidden. Harvey Teller and Bob Daniels were co-chairmen of the party.

At their valentine party Saturday night, Phi Delta Thetas voted for the Phi Delt lover of the year. The winner will be disclosed later.

Zeta Beta Tau and Delta Upsilon also had valentine parties last weekend.

Phi Mu will begin celebrating its centennial week with a tea Sunday.

Exchange dinners: Alpha Phi and Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Zeta and Delta Tau Delta, Delta Gamma and Kappa Sigma, and Alpha Gamma Delta and Delta Upsilon.

Robert Miller, Phi Delt traveling secretary, visited the local chapter last week end.

The Alpha Delta Pi annual "Hearts in the Snow" closed formal was held Saturday in the Fine Arts Gallery. Bill Evans, ATO, was crowned by the ADPI's as "the man with whom they would most like to be snowbound."

The 100th anniversary of Phi Kappa Psi was celebrated last week end by the fraternity. The first Phi Kappa Psi chapter was founded at Washington and Jefferson College in 1852, while the Bowling Green chapter was established last year.

The celebration began Saturday evening with a closed party. Attending the party were representatives from each sorority and fraternity. For this occasion the Phi Psi's decorated their house in red and green, the fraternity's colors, and used a centennial theme.

On Sunday the Phi Psi's entertained at an open house from 2 to 4.

Tonight they will hold their Founders Day Banquet. The honored guest list includes President and Mrs. McDonald, the Deans and their wives, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Findlay. Mr. Brown, who is an attorney of the Ohio Oil Company of Findlay will be the guest speaker.

Next Friday, Feb. 22, the entire fraternity will be entertained at a banquet held in Findlay, with the Findlay Phi Kappa Psi Alumni Association.

Universal Military Training Discussed In Student Poll

The Universal Military Training bill was formally approved by the House Armed Services Committee Feb. 7 with a 27-7 vote. Under this program all able-bodied 18-year-olds would be called for six months of training. The question of how and when UMT should start was left open.

Fred Vinson, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, stated that a "bona fide" UMT would train men specifically to build up powerful military reserves. After completing six months training, the men would be placed in the reserves for seven and one-half years.

It was also stated that the men couldn't be called to active duty unless Congress first gave its approval. As the bill now stands, either Congress or the President has the power to put a UMT program into effect.

Dick Hoffman, when asked his opinion concerning the program, said that "UMT is a necessity. Having dabbled with Russian philosophy and history, I feel that we must be prepared, for Russia seems only to respect power. We should try to follow the example of Turkey, a country which knows Russia and which employs a UMT program. I feel the best time to have these persons serve is after high school, and thereby six months to a year of training would definitely add to their maturity and settle them for college and later life."

Joe Becker, graduate assistant in biology, is in favor of UMT. "The plan before Congress sounds fairly good. I feel it would be best if the age would be changed from 18 to the age of graduation from high school. Therefore, the fellows would not have to wait until their eighteenth birthday."

Jerry Borra, senior also favors UMT. "This is one of the most important issues before Congress and the President. It will take manpower as well as machine power to bring peace to the world, and UMT is necessary to train that manpower."

Basil Georgopoulos, senior, stated that, "Though I am an advocate of individual freedom in all fields of activity, I sincerely believe that some times it is indispensable that individual freedom be reduced to a degree for achievement of better discipline and training which, under the present circumstances, I consider most vital and desirable."

"I do think that a program such as UMT will in the long run prove advantageous both to the youth of the nation and to the nation itself. We will be able to have trained people who will be well qualified to protect themselves and their freedom if and when the Kremlin decides to initiate an all-out offensive movement."
